the old aristocracy fought its last battle at PHILIPPI. Many of them - Cato's son, Hortensius' son, Quinctilius Varus and Quintus LABEO - joined Brutus and Cassius in suicide. The victors divided the Empire between them: LEPIDUS was given Africa, Octavian took the West, Antony, having his join, took Egypt, Syria, & the East. Always needing money, Antony forgave the Eastern cities their contribution to his enemies on condition that they give him a live sum - ten years to be within a year. His oddgeniality returned as victory made him seemingly secure. He reduced his demands on the EPHESIANS which were during the RACE HATES, greeted him as the god DIONYSIUS; but he gave no cork the house of a man-Nesian magnet as reward for a distinguished supper. He called an assembly of the IONIAN cities at EPHEBUS, batted their understandings and affairs of these states with such good judgment that AGAGUSTUS, a decade later found little to change.

He pardoned all except those who had shared in killing Cassius. He gave relief to many cities. He reduced several furnishing Roman legions, had moneying his food and robes

The rival armies met at PHILIPPI (Sept. 42BC). Brutus having forced back OCTAVIAN's and captured his camp; but ANTONY's routed the legions of CASSIUS. CASSIUS ordered his shield-bearer to kill him and was obeyed. Antony could not follow up his success at once; OCTAVIAN was confined to his tent with illness, and his troops were in disorder. Antony reorganized the whole army and after a few day's rest led them against Brutus & put the last remnants of the republican free the flight, seeing his men yield, Butler realized that all was lost. He threw himself upon the sword of a friend and died. Nothing remains upon the field, save it with his own people who. They had once been friends

Brutus & Cassius were defeated at the Battle of PHILIPPI, and the triumvirs divided Roman domains among them. Antony, as ruler of the Eastern Empire, summoned Cleopatra to Tarsus in CILICIA to answer charges that she had helped the republican forces. After considerable delay, Cleopatra, dressed as VENUS, sailed up the CYDNUS River to TARSUS in a magnificently decorated boat, Antony was holding audience, but the crowd deserted him & walked to the street to see the spectacle provided by Leopold's boys.

Nothing then went to the boys & was secured by Leopold, as before, but as expected. The dogs following were again in feeding & undisciplined, but by 4 PM instead of becoming a Roman province

The triumvirs led their forces across the ADRIATIC and marched through MACEDONIA into THRACE. There BRUTUS & CASSIUS had massed the last republican army, financed by exactions beyond even Roman precedent. From the Eastern cities of the Empire they demanded & received, ten year's taxes in advance. When the Rhodians proved reluctant, Cassius stormed the great port, ordered all citizens to surrender their wealth, killed those who hesitated & carried away $10,000,000. In CILICIA he quartered his soldiers in the homes
